COOKIE EXTENDED INFORMATION & SETTING

WHAT COOKIES ARE

Cookies are small text files that the websites visited by users send to their terminal (computer, laptop, tablet, smartphone, etc.) and where they are stored in order to be re-transmitted to the same websites at the next visit by the same terminal. Cookies are used for different purposes, they have different characteristics and may be used by both the owner of the website or by third parties.

Please find below, all the information about cookies installed through this website, and all the information about how to manage your preferences about them.

WHAT KIND OF COOKIES WE USE ON OUR WEBSITE

1) Technical cookies which do not require any Opt in by users:

All technical cookies do not require any consent by the user, therefore, they are installed automatically as a result of accessing the website.

Among the technical cookies, we use:

• Navigation Cookie

Cookies ensuring the normal browsing and use of the website, through different options or services, aimed at increasing the website performance.

• Functionality Cookie

Cookies which save the users' preferences, which allow users browsing, according to a set of selected criteria (such as, for example, language, text characters, browser type, etc.).

• Geolocation Cookie

Cookies which record the user's approximate address (city, state, zip code) obtained by IP address, to be able to automatically select the right Country or server and inform users of any commercial offers in the same area.

2) Cookies which require users' Opt in:

All cookies, other than the technical ones mentioned above, are installed or activated only if previous consent is given by the user, the first time he/she visits the website. Opt in may be expressed in a general way, by interacting with the brief cookie information banner on the landing page of the website, pursuant to the actions set out in the above-mentioned banner (closing the banner, or by clicking the OK button, or by scrolling the page or clicking on any of its elements); or it can be provided selectively in the way described below. Opt in given by users is tracked and recorded in order to effect next visits on the same website. However, the user is always allowed revoking all or part of the consents previously given.

Among the cookies which require the users' Opt in, we use:

• Cookies managed by third parties:

These cookies are not managed by our company, and are referred to as third parties cookies. Please find below some information, and a link to the privacy policy and consent form for each of them. For all of them you may give your consent also closing this page or by switching to another page of the website.

a) Social networking Cookie

These cookies are collected in order to share content on social networks.

Please find below the name of any third part that manages the above-mentioned cookies, and for each of them the link to the page where is possible to have more information and/or manage the consent.
